

2014 Wellness Network Report on Student Health

This report highlights self-reported student behaviors from the Fall 2013 National College Health Assessment (NCHA) and compares UT students to college students nationwide.

 = National Average for Comparison

UT Wellness Network is a campus-wide coalition committed to assessing and addressing the health and wellness needs of students, faculty, and staff at The University of Texas at Austin. We bring together advocates for health and wellness from across UT Austin to share information, strategies, and resources to address the above and other health topics. Wellness Network works toward a campus community where the healthy choice is the easy choice. Visit wellnessnetwork.utexas.edu for more information.
